THAT OTHER SPORT. . . .

Texans may appreciate what other major conferences say about the football emphasis down here after seeing an all-Big 10 final for the NCAA basketball crown won by powerful Indiana over Michigan, 86-68.

The Southwest Conference is Texas except for Arkansas whose head coach last year questioned the "out" given here about what great football Southwest Schools play. Big 10, Big 8, Pac 8 are hardly football patsies, baseball patsies, track patsies, swimming patsies, tennis patsies to name a few.

Texas Tech beat TAMU in the post-conference basketball playoff after TAMU had defeated the Red Raiders twice. Big 8 Mizzou downed Tech, but lost to Michigan.

The same omen shadowed Indiana's perfect season when it became apparent the Wolverines would likely meet the Hoosiers for a third time in the Philadelphia final. Michigan ended Rutgers' perfect season by 16 points in the semi-finals.

But Scott May, Ken Benson and the rest of those 6-7, 6-7, 6-5 lads, without Bobby Wilkinson, who suffered a mild brain concussion early in the game, went on to destroy the younger Michigan team a third time.

Indiana is anything but a football power. The only Big 10 grid title won by the Hoosiers was in 1945 with Pete Pihos, George Taliferro and a number of great players. But Indiana furnished the U. S. Mark Spitz, the gold medalist (how many times) in the 1972 Olympics.

Michigan finished second in Big 10 football, basketball and last spring had No. 5 tennis team in the NCAA's. Mizzou won Big 8 tennis last spring and finished 15th in the NCAA's.

If Southwest Conference thinks football is the only game for big, tall men, take a look at the 6-11, 245-pound Benson. Or the 225-pound, 6-7 May, the 6-5 Quinn Buckner, who played two years varsity football at IU and three years varsity basketball. The game is physical.

There's a lot more gate money in good football. But if a team ranks in the top 15 or 20 in basketball, plays a tough schedule insstead of an almost all-East like Rutgers, the gate will be about as big as the gym.

UofT--Austin is building a new gymnasium and has hired Abe Abrams of Pan-American and Oklahoma City University fame. He will give Texas, for one Southwest Conference school, a winner and gate which will pay for some of the other sports.

Indiana probably draws 12,000 to 15,000 fans to some dozen homegames or about 150,000 fans, perhaps twice the number counting tournament and road games. One observer noted Monday night football and basketball are the only games which pay in Midwest sports.

It is better to have two sports paying than one. Michigan is the exception, of course, but it draws about 100,000 or more to each of its football homegames. And the UofM basketball team, largely freshmen and juniors this year, will draw a lot of people next year.

But the old saw about the Southwest Conference being football won't get it when at least three other conferences field national challengers in football, basketball and other sports.

If Southwesterners doubt the game is physical, just remember how Indiana and Michigan played that NCAA final on network television.

New Oil Well Flowing In South Milam

A new oil well, described by one oilman as "one of the best in the area" has been completed and is now flowing between 40 and 60 barrels of oil a day. And there is good news for the owners of gas wells.

The well is located north of Milano on the J. P. Ferguson lease and was drilled by two businessmen, Sam Moti and Ronald Radcliff both of Detroit, Mich.

The well hit pay at about 2,525 feet, where it is believed there are some 20 to 30 feet of oil sands. The well was drilled to the "Navarro C" formation, and was completed last week.

In addition to the oil sand, the well hit gas sands at about 1,600 to 2,200 feet.

Some good news for Milam gas producers is that the gas now can be compressed and frozen for shipment. Before now the gas wells were not developed because there was no pipeline for shipping the natural gas out.

Wayne Pemberton, who has a number of acres leased in Milam COounty, said it is estimated that there are five trillion cubic feet of gas under Milam ground that can be recovered and shipped by the new method.

Pemberton said some of the gas wells that have been shut down for years will be re-opened and this will mean quite a bit for the economy of Milam County.

Bonds Set For Suspects

Two 19-year old Corsicana and Dallas men were ordered held on $10,000 bonds in federal court at Waco Friday on a complaint charging they broke into the post offices at Rogers and Heidenheimer on March 22 and carried away property of the U. S. Postal Service.

The men are Charlie Allen Beasley of Corsicana and Gary Leland Tindall of Dallas.

The complaint which Postal Inspector G. E. Eller of Fort Worth signed also charges that Beasley and Tindall tried to pass at Florence and Killeen postal money orders that were stolen at Heidenheimer.

Both Milano school board incumbents, E. C. Westbrook Jr. and Arnold Kornegay, have filed for re-election.

TAX OFFICE SCENE the past few days has been hectic, to say the least, with last-minute efforts by motorists to register their vehicles. Deadline for displaying the new 1976 sticker on plates was midnight Wednesday, and many countians waited until the usual last days.

Train Derails, Engineer Killed

A Southern Pacific freight train derailed near Calvert Tuesdav morning, killing the engineer and injuring two others critically.

Lightnin g struck a railroad bridge north of Calvert at around 6 a.m. and the three train engines and 28 cars went off the track.

Killed was S. A. Alford, engineer. Names of the injured were unavailable.

Killed was S. A. Alford, engineer, injured were J. D. Dietsel, the fireman, and Raymond Eskabar, the head brakeman. All were from Ennis.

A Southern Pacific spokesman said lightning apparently set the bridge on fire and the train was unable to stop in time to avoid the burning bridge.

Traffic Mishaps Damage Cars, Police Catch Fleeing Suspects

City police and highway patrolmen investigated a number of traffic accidents over the weekend with vehicle damage reported but no serious injuries. Cameron police also arrested three men wanted in Taylor after a high-speed chase.

Rockdale DPS trooperJerry Benson investigated a one car accident around 1 a.m. Saturday when a car driven by Judd Whitfield of Temple left Highway 77 a half mile north of Cameron and struck a utility pole and a culvert. The car was damaged bu t the driver was not injured.

On Saturday, Gene Patterson of Harker Heights was jailed on a driving while intoxicated charge after his car collided with one driven by Ray Northern of Milano. The accident happened at 9 p.m. three miles east of Milano on Highway 79. DPS trooper Scott Douglas investigated the mishap.

Monday at 1 p.m. city police officer Bob Bailey investigated an accident at Fourth and Travis. Cars driven by Agnes Kostroun of Cameron and Kate Suthen of Albany collided at the intersection. Extensive damage was reported to the Suthen car but there were no injuries.

Trooper Jerry Benson of Rockdale reported a one-car mishap Monday night when Ray Glenn of the Thorndale area lost control of his car on a gravel road and it hit an embankment. Glenn and his small son were both treated and released at a Taylor hospital.

Another collision at 7:30 Tuesday morning was reported by DPS trooper Milton Wright of Cameron. No injuries were reported in a collision of cars driven by Earl Sproull of Cameron and Thelma Calhoun, also of Cameron. The collision occurred three miles west of Cameron on Highway 36.

Early Sunday morning Cameron police officers Ed Sexton and Joe Cottle apprehended and arrested three men at the intersection of Highways 77 and 36 south of Cameron after the three led Rockdale police in a high-speed chase.

The trio was wanted in an investigation at Taylor in the burglary of a Taylor tavern. The men were turned over to Taylor authorities by Cameron police.

Suit Filed For Hearne Worker

The American Civil Liberties Foundation of Texas, Inc., has filed suit in Waco's federal court on behalf of a former bookkeeper for the city of Hearne.

The petition contends Mae Beth Bishop was fired March 29, 1974, which was one day after a Robertson County grand jury returned nine indictment s against six city officials involving a $10,000 shortage in city funds.

The foundation is requesting U.S. District Judge Jack Roberts to order present city officials to reinstate the bookkeeper with all back pay and benefits, to provide her with $10,000 in exemplary damage s, and to pay her attorney fees and court costs. She was making $360 a month when she was let go.

The suit contends Mrs. Bishop was deprived of her rights, privileges, and immunities.

The suit contend s that as a bookkeeper she drew a check, which was one of her responsibilities, on June 25, 1971 for $12,000 payable to T. C. Engineering Co. at the request of the city manager.

The petition contends that a $10,000 shortage in city funds was discovered during a 1973 audit. It contends she said when she appeared before the Hearne City Council on March 25, 1974, that she did not know that the $12,000 check had been used for non-public purposes. Three days later the indictments were returned. She contends she was not given a hearing before she was fired on March 29.

The defendants in the suit include Hearne City Manager E. C. Suggs, Mayor Jake Abrams, Councilmen Grady Griffin, Julian Kwasnica, Tom Mayfield, John Miles Jr., and Luke Roffino, and all their successors in office up to and including City Manager Charles Mills, Mayor R. W. Huddleston, and Councilmen Roffino, Harold Hill, and Raymond Theiss and their successors.

Although named as a defendant, former Mayor Abrams has died.

The defendants have not had time to file answers to the allegations in the petition.

Survey To Study Meals For Elderly

The Cameron Ministerial Association is making a survey to determine interest in a meals program for the elderly.

The program would be to furnish at cost a few balanced meals each week because people living alone do not cook balanced meals for themselves, as they would if they had someone to cook for or someone to cook for them.

There would be certain requirements to be met in order to take part in the program. One would be for the recipient to be 65 years old or older, living alone or inable because of illness to prepare food as desired.

Also at present the ability to pay for the meal at cost which should be one dollar or less. There may be other rules set up if the program is begun. At present there is no fund to pay for those who are unable to pay for their own meals.

In order to determine approximately how many would be interested in such a program, readers are asked to contact their relatives, neighbors, or anybody they think might benefit from this meals program. A form is being published in this edition of The Herald on page 4.

An Association spokesman said this in no way guarantees that a meals program will be started in Cameron, but the Association wants to know how much interest there is before the program can be initiated. The form should be mailed by Saturday, April 10.

Workday Set For B'holts Park

A workday for Buckholts city park has been set for Saturday, April 3 starting at 9 a.m.

Workers are asked to bring tools to work with.

The park will be getting its concrete park tables and benches and workers will be needed to help set these up.

Draft Board To Be Terminated

Pete Kunz and Odell Biggs, both of Cameron, will have their positions on the Local Draft Board No. 5 terminated on May 8, according to an announcement from Col. Melvin N. Glantz, state director of Selective Service.

Local Board No. 5 has served Milam, Bell, and Falls counties during the years of active selective service.

Similar dismissals will occur in all states on that date as Selective Service continues to reduce its operational capability. On February 28 all draft board offices were closed.

Texas has 525 members assigned to the 96 draft boards of the state.

April Is Month For Transfers

April is transfer month for students living in another district who want to change to the Cameron school district, according to School Supt. Buddy Dulin.

Students wishing to transfer should contact the superintendent's office for the proper form, Dulin said.

The transfer must be made by April 30.

Cohesion Beyond Federals...

While the current Postmaster General is saying the postal service could go bankrupt in a year, the newspaper industry, all of it, is pointing up the dramatic, even devastating cost effects on print publications of all kinds.

That is, if a $307.4 million proposal for extended phasing fails to get Congressional and White House approval.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar has gone before the newspaper industry in Washington governmental workshop and before Congress this week pointing up the disastrous proportions U. S. Postal Service has reached.

The print media are providing valid statistics of what will happen to national magazines, newspapers like Wall Street Journal and Grit and to small dailies and non-dailies who are heavy second-class users of the mail.

Bailar apparently doesn't want to hurt the newspaper industry while he tries to salvage the postal service. But things are threatening to come apart if the postal service continues a six-year policy of trying to operate as a public corporation.

The newspaper industry offers not only statistics supporting need for the $307.4 million appropriation already approved by bi-partisanship in both Houses, but it shows the enormous impact projected phasing of new mail costs on the media.

If the print media is not priced out of the market, as some would be, it would go to alternative means of distribution, particularly among national magazines and small daily and non-daily publications.

The Postmaster General emphasized that labor and fuel costs have skyrocketed in the past few years, which compose 90 percent of postal costs. Alternative types of delivery are being proposed which would be responsive to the same market-place pressures apparently ripping the postal service.

The print media, because of its permanency as a printed record and means of reference in current events, is vital to any home community.

It is the only media unlicensed by the federal government, which because of postal economic realities, may be imposing drastic limitation on an industry historically serving as a fourth estate, the only non-governmental entity protected by the Constitution.

The accusations among postal management and workers and citizenship may continue to fly, but the stakes for tens of millions of Americans are higher than curtailed postal service or some retrenchment to the past.

It would affect millions of Americans whose community print media, metropolitan, or microscopic, reflect the local views, represent an abiding interest in local development and give cohesion the federal government cannot possibly understand.

Airpark Improvements...

It has been almost 10 years since Cameron Airpark has received any major improvement, other than expansion of a tie-down or parking space.

We note the Texas Aeronautics Commission has approved a grant for $11,125 to reconstruct the lighted runways and to acquire additional clear zone easements.

Twin-engine jets or piston planes can land on the approximate 3,000-foot strip now, but the airpark can use updating for the greater needs of the next few years.

The Cameron Airpark provides the complete transportation package for the industrial area of Cameron, including US 77 and freight rail service of SP Railroad feeding into the Santa Fe System here.

This is yet another sign of the continuing modernization of county-seat Cameron, evermore a hub of other small towns in Central Texas.

Legislators Urge Special Session

- Pressure is on Gov. Dolph Briscoe to call a special legislative session in an effort to get relief from rising gas and electric bills.

Electric cooperatives and legislators publicly have urged emergency action.

Briscoe said he is keeping an open mind on the subject and would consider special session action if presented a program that might accomplish annything — and which could pass.

Most proposals advanced to date have centered on outlawing fuel adjustment allowances which permit gas companies to pass along costs of their supplies to customers regardless of long-term contracts.

Others have included repeal of the sales tax on gas and electricity and reforming the occupation tax on gas production.

House Speaker Bill Clayton called a two-day workshop session for April 1-2 on legislation to shift more of the gas production tax to out-of-state users.

Clayton estimated Texas consumers might save $25 million a year if the tax were shifted to a flat rate rather than percentage of price basis.

The Senate's consumer affairs sub-committee also set hearings April 12-13 on the entire range of natural gas problems including price, supply, taxation, the price pass-through and regulation.

Funds "Vanish"

Millions of dollars in Duval County funds have "simply vanished," Comptroller Bob Bullock said in a new audit report on the stormy South Texas county.

Bullock said Duval faces financial crisis, is "going broke" and cannot meet its August 1 payrolls at current spending levels.

Highlights of the report included an account of an "unknown depositor" who walked off with a quarter million dollars in public funds with no accounting.

Bullock also said Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District has collected $11 million in revenue and has only $1.6 million in improvements and fees to show for it. He said the county ignores millions of dollars in tax delinquencies and has "excused" major taxpayers of hundreds of thousands of dollars in taxes.

Study Ordered

The State Welfare Department is seeking an outside opinion on how it can improve its $1 billion-a-year operations.

The Welfare Board April 15 will consider a proposal to hire a national management consultant firm to take on the job.

Top state officials recently told agency heads they should review their financial needs and find new ways to improve their productivity.

Completion of the evaluation would be expected early in 1977.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court declined to prohibit questioning of law officers about a tipster whose confidential information led to arrest of gambler Amarillo Slim Preston. The court further refused to order dismissal of three charges against Preston and another.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a life sentence of a Tarrant County man for aggravated robbery, due to improper reading of a parole law to the jury.

The Supreme Court took under review lower court rulings that rejected a $375,000 libel suit against Laredo Newspapers Inc.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill, in his 123rd opinion dealing with the open records law, said names and addresses of police officers are not necessarily confidential. He earlier held identity of undercover agents is excepted from the act.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

—Irrigation potential may be considered in determining tax value of land.

—A county may compensate retiring employees for a portion of sick leave accrued but not taken.

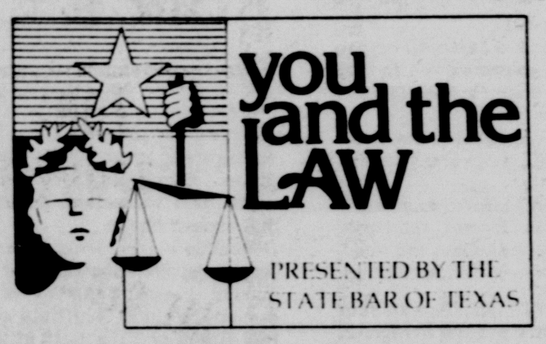
—A deposition taken in a Securities Board investigatory proceeding is confidential.

—Hutto Independent School District is limited to a $1.50 tax rate for both maintenance and bonds.

Short Snorts

Public Utility Commission members urged selection of Texas as site for a proposed federal solar energy research institute.

Comptroller Bob Bullock notified 9,700 businesses their corporate charters are forfeited for failure to pay franchise taxes.



Q: I bought a pair of boots under a lay-away plan, but am unable to complete the payments. Can I demand a refund of my payments made so far?

A: No. There is no law requiring the merchant to refund your payments on lay-away purchases. You should ask the merchant whether he will make such a refund before you begin making payments. If the merchant agrees and makes refunds, this agreement should be made in writing and a copy retained by the consumer.

Q: When I opened my new business, I was required to post a surety bond of what I considered to be a large amount before I could be issued a sales tax permit. A friend of mine in a similar business was required to post a much smaller bond. Why are bonding requirements different?

A: The bond is required under the Texas Sales Tax law for all new retail businesses. Normally, the bond amount is equal to three times the level of sales tax that the merchant estimates he will collect during three months. If that estimate proves too high or too low, his bond will be adjusted up or down to reflect his actual tax collections level. This adjustment will be made by the State Comptroller of Public Accounts through the Comptroller's field offices around the state. If the new retail merchant remits his sales tax collections properly during a two-year period, the bond requirement can be removed.

Q: Is it necessary for me to appoint more than one executor in my will, in case the executor dies before I do?

A: No, but under Texas law it is advisable. If the only person named as executor in your will dies before you die or dies before your estate has been settled, the court can appoint an administrator for the estate when a qualified person applies. However, it will be much less expensive and much more simple to settle your estate if your will names a second person who will take over as independent executor in case the first person dies before your estate has been settled. A court-appointed administrator, unlike an independent executor, must post a surety bond.

Q: My husband is behind in his child support payments — can he still have the right to visit my children?

A: Yes. Child support and visitation rights do not depend on each other. If your husband fails to pay his child support, your remedy would be to ask the court to enforce the child support order. Likewise, if your husband believes you are not fulfilling your obligation to allow him to visit the children as required by the divorce decree, your husband's course of action would be to ask the court to enforce the visitation rights order.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

I don't know about you, but I don't understand Presidential Preference primaries, the things the newspapers and television networks are reporting ever y week as though they were professional football games leading to the Super Bowl.

In the first place, they're supposed to be selecting delegates to the two national nominating conventions, but in at least one state it's just a popularity contest, with no delegates actually going to the candidates. In lots of other state s about half the delegates selected are uncommitted; they can go to the convention and vote for just anybody, a choice they sometimes have.

Or take New Hampshire, whose primary is held in January, the first in the country. Although the state hasn't got as much population as a lot of cities, its Presidential primary attracts nation-wide attention, some people say nation-wide significance, because it's the first one held. New Hampshire is so proud of the honor that it has a law saying its primary will be held one week ahead of any other state's primary, regardless of when that happens. Thus if say Idaho wanted to try to be first and set its primary in December, New Hampshire's would be held perhaps in November. If enough states entered into the joke, this could go on until New Hampshire was holding its primary four years before the next Presidential election, meaning of course that candidates would have to announce four years in advance. This might prove to be an advantage to the voters, because where's the candidates who could stand four years of being investigated by the newspapers? The ideal situation for some candidates would be to announce only one week before the election. How much could you find out about them in that short a time?

By the way, I heard a politician say once more the other day when he was asked a question he didnt want to answer: "I'll cross the bridge when I come to it." I have observed, however, that when politicians do come to that bridge, most of them veer and go downstream hunting for a place they can cross without being noticed.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Brenham State School Accredited

The Chicago based Accrediation Council for Facilities for the Mentally Retarded has announced the two year accrediation of Brenham State School.

The Council, an affiliate organization of the Joint Commission on Accrediation of Hospitals, made the disclosure by telephone last Friday. Officials at the school were elated and praised a dedicated staff and splendid facility for the accomplishment.

Brenham is one of 12 state supported residential facilities for the mentally retarded in Texas.

All 12 facilities are operated under the auspices of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and each has sought to be accreditated. Brenham is the first to successfully achieve such stature in this state.

The Accrediation Council for Facilities for the Mentally Retarded was established to improve, through a national, voluntary program of accreditation, the quality of services provided mentally retarded persons.

The accrediation process is one of establishing standards and then determining the degree to which any given service complies with such standards.

Nutritionists have joined the nation in celebrating the Bicentennial year during March, Nutrition Month. The theme "1776-1976 Improving Nutrition for a Nation" emphasized the need for good nutrition obtained from eating a balanced diet according to individual food needs.

Even in the fifteenth century Benjamin Franklin recognized the need for Americans to eat in moderation, to exercise and relax as shown by the following quote from the sayings of Poor Richard in the Almanac of 1742:

"Eat to live and not live to eat"

"They that study much, ought not to eat so much as those that work hard, their digestion not being so good."

To day nutritionists recommend moderation in eating to prevent obesity - one of the most common problems of man. Obesity -- an excess of 20 per cent over your desirable weight - predisposes one to diseases of the heart, diabetes, digestive disturbances and other difficulties.

Obesity is basically a problem of eating too much and exercising too little.

Daily exercise is necessary to burn up calories and keep muscles in condition.

Besides exercise, also cut down the amount of food eaten at each meal. There is no advantage to skipping meals completely, because more is eaten at the next meal.

In selecting foods from the Basic Four Food Groups, choose foods with fewer calories. In the Milk Group, buttermilk, nonfat dry milk, dry curd cottage cheese and iced milk are among the lower calorie choices.

Lean meats, meats canned in water, baked and broiled meats are the lower calorie possibilities in the Meat Group.

Try whole wheat or enriched breads and cereals with no added sugar to meet the daily food needs of family members from the Bread and Cereal Group.

Some of the lower calorie foods in the Fruit and Vegetable Group are fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables, and fruit canned in water rather than in syrup.

Season vegetables with bouillon and use vinegar, lemon juice and herbs on salads rather than rich salad dressings.

Let's celebrate good nutrition all year round by cutting down the amount of food you eat, eating a lower calorie diet than usual, and exercising regularly to lose weight and stay healthy.

County Agent's Notes

Soaking Rains Aid Wheat Crop

By Bill McCutchen

Soaking rains last week over most of the county have increased wheat crop prospects in the county. In fact most wheat looks better at this time than in recent years and good yields are a possibility.

Recent rainfall has been quite timely on sorghum in firming soil around the young plants and in activating weed control chemicals.

Johnnie Smith informed me last week that he was noting some greenbug activit in sorghum, but not to the critical state as yet.

Sorghum Released

The grain sorghum industry is expected to receive another production boost soon with the release of twin seeded breeding materials by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The materials are going to commercial seed companies where two to three years will be required to produce enough planting seed for sale to sorghum growers.

Dr. Fred Miller, says the release, designated as TP11R, marks the third major advance in sorghum improvement over the past 35-40 years. First, there were the varieties developed for mechanical harvesting, and then the hybrids of the 1950s Now it's twin seeding.

Miller says that a 20 percent yield increase is realistic with twin seeding, and this was exactly the percent increase over the top single seeded varieties in Frank Kratochvils variety test last year. Miller furnished seed for the test.

This year Milam County producers will get another preview of the twin seeded sorghums as some is planted both in Frank Kratochvil's variety plots and W. E. Beckhusen's plots. This will give a comparison between upland and bottomland sites.

TP11R is the result of four years of research, started by crossing a three foot combine type with an Ethiopian variety. Further crossing and re-crossing eventually came up with TP11R. The process, Miller managed to work in such traits as disease and greenbug resistance, good grain quality, and lodging resistance.

Meeting Set On Peanut Production

By John E. Snell

Dr. Leland D. Tripp will conduct a meeting on peanut production on Wednesday, April 7. The meeting will be held in the Conference Room of the First National Bank in Cameron at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Tripp is the new peanut specialist for the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. He will discuss peanut production and will talk about varieties, insect control, disease control, and weed control.

This meeting will provide all Milam County peanut growers the opportunity to meet the new specialist and discuss their peanut production problems with him.

All Milam County peanut growers are invited to attend this meeting.

Care Vital In Using Herbicides

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White urges all Milam County farmers who use 2,4-D and other hormone-type herbicides to be especially careful this spring and observe regulations for application of that material.

This county is one of 76 in the state which have elected to operate under the regulations administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

White reminded farmers that they must have a permit to use hormone-type herbicides on plots of ten acres or more. On smaller plots, the operator must notify the Texas Department of Agriculture of his intent, prior to spraying.

"These hormone-type herbidices are essential in production plans of some farmers, but they can be a serious problem to others if wise practices are not followed," White explained

Herbicides can drift during application from the target area and will affect susceptible crops such as cotton and other broad leaf plants. In addition, fruits vegetables and ornamentals can be damaged severely by herbicides.

Before applying these the farmer should check the surrounding fields for susceptible crops. White advised.

He also suggested that a spray pressure of 20 to 30 pounds is best for applications of these herbicides.

"Proper pressure for ground rigs is one of the best ways to assure safety. Spraying is best done when winds are from 0-3 mph and temperatures are less than 90 degrees F. When winds reach 10 mph. and temperatures exceed 90 degrees F., the operations should be halted," White said.

FOOTSTEPS

Dad was a railroader, a dedicated one. The rails were his love as well as his life. To him the "Twentieth Century" wasn't a span of history — it was "his train" roaring through the night.

Dad often took me to the train yards. He taught me that a railroader never steps on the rails. A "trackwalker" always walks the ties! This was no superstition — just respect for the "road."

There are other lessons to be learned . . . that involve reverence, respect and the footsteps of life . . . lessons that help us express in our simplest actions the things we believe in.

Learning those vital lessons every Sunday at church is even more fruitful than a trip to the train yards with Dad.

TENNIS

For the first time the Yoe High Tennis teamwill host a high school tennis tournament. The tournament will bring 11 area towns to Cameron.

It is the first time that the school has been able to host a tennis tournament due to the lack of facilities prior to this year. The city has constructed 4 tennis courts on city property in the city park.

Earlier the courts were under fire from some individuals because they felt that the trees in the park would mean more than the courts.

After viewing how many people--young and old--the courts have inhanced City Park. The courts are inuse much of the day time and are usually packed throughout the evening. I cannot remember ever seeing that many people inCity in City Park prior to the advent of the courts.

One observation would arouse the possibilities of more couts.

GOALS OR NETS? . . .

Yoe netters played Rosebud-Lott in a dual match Tuesday afternoon at the city and school courts. While the match play was going on at the high school courts there was also an outdoor basketball game being played.

Tennis players, who have the right to the courts, had to play with a basketball game being played. This would be like a soccer game being played at one end of a football field while the Yoe football team is playing at the other.

One might say, IMPOSSIBLE!

And I would have to agreed. Tennis is one of the fastest growing American sports, only giving way to soccer. It's a sportthat can be enjoyed throughout ones life. So scoot over outdoor basketball and give our varsity tennis team a chance to represent Yoe High.

TRACK. . .

Yoe tracksters improved over their times at the A&M Consol. Track meet this past week and placed third inthe over all competition. Giving way to district rivals Elgin and to Mart.

It could have been a second place finish but a hand-off error caused disqualification in the mile relay. Also a mis-measurement in the field events affected the final outcome.

Not only did the Yoe team have a good showing but in the OJT girls division it was a first place trophy at the Taylor meet.

The OJT runners combined the 7th and 8th grade division to win the meet with 110 points. Coach Janice Swope's runners competed against Caldwell, Del Valle, Westlake, Lockhart, Taylor, A&M Con., and Georgetown.

It was a great victory for the fem runners who have had outstanding results throughout the season.

Yoe Runners Place Third

Yoe tracksters placed third in the Rosebud-Lott Relays this past Saturday bowing to district rival Elgin who placed first in the meet with 106 points. Mart edged out the Yoemen for second with 88 points and the Yoe runners took third with 80 points.

The 440 yard relay team was disqualified because of a lane violation. Also there was a penalty on Joe Smitherman's throw in the discus. It was written 131 but measured 137'. He was awarded 3rd place.

In the field events Kenneth Scott placed 5th with a 47'1''. Smitherman fplaced 6th with a toss of 45'6''. Lawrence Lowe placed 5th in the long jump.

In the running events it was Craig White placing 6th in the 880 yard dash with a time of 2:07.3. In the 120 high hurdles Curtis Wise placed 3rd with a 15.6, and David Delony placed 4th with a 15.9 time. Delony placed 3rd in the Intermediate hurdles with a 42.9 time.

Aaron Miller ran a 10.3 in the 100 yard dash for 6th place. Mike White won the 440 yard dash with a 51.6 followed by another Yoe runner, Jafus White, placing 2nd with a 51.8 time.

Robert Miller won the 220 yard dash with a 22.4 time. In the open mile run Jim Chandler placed 6th with a 4:54.8 time.

The Yoe Mile Relay team won the race with a 3:30.0 time. Members include Stanley Manners, Robert Miller, Mike White, and Jafus White.

The Yoe thinclads will run in the Belton Relays this weekend. The Big Red meet attracts Central Texas teams from all class divisions.

OJThomas Girls Win Meet In Taylor

The O. J. Thomas girl tracksters won the first Invitational Girls' Track meet in Taylor. It was a combined 7th and 8th grade meet that hosted 8 teams.

The OJT runners had a combined total of 110 points to lead the meet, followed by Georgetown in second with 98 points. Del Valle placed 3rd, followed by Taylor in 4th.

Going into the finals the OJT thinclads had only 33 points, but smashed the competition to gain 77 points in the finals.

Winners include: Cameron, 440 yard relay, 2nd; Melissa Mekush, 2nd, 440 yard dash; Denise Kelly, 34d, 220 yard dash; Lethia White, 4th, 220 yard dash; Pamela Kimble, 2nd, 89 yard hurdles; Angela Swain, 3rd, 89 yard hurdles; Shelia Harris, 4th, 89 yard hurdles; Cameron, 2nd, 880 yard relay.

Vicki Brashear, 7th, shot put; Vicky Brown, 1st discus; Vicki Brashear, 3rd, discus; Sheila Harris, 7th, broad jump; PamKimbrel, 3rd, triple jump; Cindy Vrazel, 6th, triple jump; Betty Sue Chubb, 2nd, 880 yard dash; Olivia Vargas, 6th, 880 yard dash.

Other teams competing in the first ever Cameron Tournament will be district rival Austin Westlake and Caldwell. Bastrop, Marble Falls, Franklin, and Columbus will round out the competition.

Play will begin at 9 a.m. on the high school and city courts. This is the first time that Cameron has had an opportunity to host a tennis tournament because of the lack of playing facilities. With the addition of the four city courts the school has decided to bring area tennis to Cameron.

In last week tennis action against Rockdale in the high school division the Yoe netters split 7 wins and 10 losses in dual meet action.

In boys doubles Buster Miller and Gary Sanders defeated Morris and Edelman 9-7. Ted Dodd and Dow Dodd defeated Fambrough and Pounders 8-3. In boys singles Ted Dodd defeated Pounders 8-4 and Ronald Cobb downed Fambrough 8-3.
